Sycor.Rental now Microsoft-certified

Sycor.Rental has received Microsoft's "Tested/Verified" certification. This is proof that the company's industry solution based on Microsoft Dynamics AX meets the highest standards of quality and technology.

(Goettingen, Germany) "We're happy that our own high standards of quality also meet those of Microsoft, which is the reason we received this certification for our Sycor.Rental solution," says Frank Jakobi from the Executive Board of SYCOR GmbH.

To qualify for these certifications, which are conducted by an independent software company on behalf of Microsoft, companies must meet tough requirements. Only solutions by Microsoft Gold Certified Partners such as SYCOR GmbH are eligible for certification. These partners are asked to prove their software know-how, project experience and, most importantly, industry expertise. In addition, the solutions must be based on the latest version of Microsoft Dynamics. In this way, certified solutions meet the exact requirements of target customers and the highest standards of technology and quality.

"As a fully integrated industry solution based on Microsoft Dynamics AX 2009, Sycor.Rental brings together all the business processes related to small-scale and mass rental in one system. Our solution is not only perfect for the rental of mobile goods of all kinds, it also covers sales, service and maintenance for these goods," Frank Jakobi adds. In addition, the solution can be implemented across companies and branches and supports multiple languages and currencies. Thanks to its outstanding scalability, it is also flexible enough to grow with the company.

With this new certification, Sycor.Rental will be added to Microsoft's official list of industry solutions. Sycor.TransportationManagement is already among the certified solutions on this list.
